Example GmbH

- Gesellschaft mit beschränkter Haftung is a type of legal entity in German-speaking countries.
- It is equivalent to a société à responsabilité limitée in the French-speaking region of Switzerland and to a Società a Garanzia Limitata in the Italian-speaking region of Switzerland.
- It is an entity broadly equivalent to the private limited company in the United Kingdom and many Commonwealth countries, and the limited liability company in the United States.

SDE-1

Jan 2020 – June 2023

Non-FAANG Ltd

- In a limited company, the liability of members or subscribers of the company is limited to what they have invested or guaranteed to the company.
- Limited companies may be limited by shares or by guarantee. In a company limited by shares, the liability of members is limited to the unpaid value of shares.
- In a company limited by guarantee, the liability of owners is limited to such amount as the owners may undertake to contribute to the assets of the company, in the event of being wound up.
- The former may be further divided in public companies (public limited companies) and private companies (private limited companies). Who may become a member of a private limited company is restricted by law and by the company's rules.
